This class is taught with reward-based training methods. This means that we will be looking specifically for good behaviours to reward and will usually ignore the unwanted behaviours. Please let us know your current feelings and opinions about dog training methods by ticking any of the following statements that you AGREE with. Be honest!

Reward-based training is specifically what I am looking for  Reward-based training is new to me, but sounds interesting
 I am a little worried about using food to train my dog  I want my dog to work for me, not for food
 I don't really care what method we use, so long as it works!  I believe dogs should be punished for bad behaviour
 I have had good/bad (please circle) past experience with traditional (choke chain) training methods
 My dog is strong/wilful and can't be controlled without a choke chain Other: _____
